A girl has disappeared in Peking, and the mystery is somehow connected to a strange marital rite from China's past: the Minghun, or Ghost Marriage. Winner of the Prix Intramuros in 2007, Peter May once again takes his readers on a powerful, fascinating exploration of modern China. Biographie de l'auteur Peter May is the author of 15 novels including two series: The Enzo files and The China Thrillers. An award-winning journalist at 21, he became a screenwriter, creating three prime-time British TV series, before quitting to concentrate on writing novels. Published in French translation through Editions Actes Sud, May won the French Prix Intramuros in 2007 for Cadavres Chinois (Snakehead) and is the only Westerner to become an honorary member of the Chinese Crime Writers' Association. Born in Scotland, he lives in France. His latest book L'île des Chasseurs d'Oiseaux was published in French before publication in English.
